The Coromandel Fishers

Sarojini Naidu

DSSSB (TGT) ENGLISH (Lit.)

Rise, brothers, rise the wakening skies pray to the morning light,
The wind lies asleep in the arms of the dawn like a child that has cried all night.

Sun

DSSSB (TGT) ENGLISH (Lit.)

Come let us gather our nets from the shore and set our catamarans free,
To capture the leaping wealth of the tide.
for we are the kings of the sea!

No longer delay, let us hasten away in the track of the sea gull's call,
The sea is our mother
the cloud is our brother,
the waves are our comrades all.

DSSSB (TGT) ENGLISH (Lit.)

What though we toss at the fall of the sun where the hand of the sea-god drives?
He who holds the storm by the hair,
will hide in his breast our lives.

DSSSB (TGT) ENGLISH (Lit.)

Sweet is the shade of the cocoanut glade,
and the scent of the mango grove,
And sweet are the sands at the full o' the moon with the sound of the voices we love;

DSSSB (TGT) ENGLISH (Lit.)

But sweeter, O brothers the kiss of the spray and the dance of the wild foam's glee;
Row brothers, row to the edge of the verge where the low sky mates with the sea.

Questions:

The great dawn breaks, the mournful night is past,
From her deep age long sleep she wakes at last!
Sweet and long-slumbering buds of gladness ope
Fresh lips to the returning winds of hope.
Our eager hearts renew their radiant flight
Towards the glory renascent light,
Life and our land wait their destined spring
Song-bird why dost thou bear a broken wing?

Answers:

Shall spring that wakes mine ancient land again
call to my wild suffering heart in vain?
or fate's blind arrow still the pulsing note
Of my far reaching frail unconquered throat?
Or a weak bleeding pinion daunt or tire
My flight to the high realms of my desire?
Behold! I rise to meet the destined spring and scale the stars upon my broken wing!
